"What is love? Does true love really exist? I know how to be loved, but what does it mean to love another person? Do I have the ability to love someone else?" Everyone wants to experience love, yet it often seems that the people we want to love become our antagonists, and that the harder we try, the more distant we become from each other. God is the source of love, but it is obvious that at some point in human history, a vast gulf developed between God and man. High divorce rates, racism, child abuse, terrorism and animosity between religions are proof that we are far from realizing God's ideal of love. This book is an investigation into the historical resentments that have interfered with love and come between those whose deepest desire was to live in harmony and fulfillment. Learn how you can overcome the past, develop the capacity to give of yourself, and see those around you with eyes of true love. In Japanese.
